Reports

What are Generations? What Types of reports will I get? What will my reports look like?

Update Reports on progress

These will include a summary of where we are since the last report and what I have found so far. Any areas where I may have found something but it is inconclusive and what I am starting to research next. It will also include any issues or problems I may have come across whilst researching your family history.

Genealogical Reports

If you are not familiar with Genealogical reports the following pages explain what reports you will receive from us and examples of the reports. When you read your reports they will always start at Generation 1 however for reporting purposes Generation 1 may not always be you? This is really not as confusing as it sounds and a further explanation of this is in the following sections.

Understanding Generations

Generation 1 - You

Generation 2 - You're Parents

Generation 3 - You're Grandparents

Generation 4 - Your Great Grandparents

Generation 5 – Your 2nd Great Grandparents

Generation 6 – Your 3rd Great Grandparents

Generation 7 – Your 4th Great Grandparents

Generation 8 – Your 5th Great Grandparents

Generation 9 – Your 6th Great Grandparents

Generation 10 – Your 7th Great Grandparents

Ahnentafel

This report records the details of your Ancestors by Generation. In simple terms you could say that this report is looking backwards into the past from the person you start the report from.

The report starts at Generation 1 which is you however the report can be run from any person in your tree. The report will always call the starting person Generation 1, which will not be you if you have asked us to start the report on a different person.

The Example Shown on the following pages starts at my Great Grandfather (Generation 4). You will notice in the report he is reported as Generation 1 and my Great Great Grandfather (2nd Great Grandparents) (Generation 5) appears in Generation 2.

Register

This report records the details of the descendents of a particular person by Generation. In simple terms this report is looking forward into the future.

The report will always start at Generation 1 which in this case will probably not be you but a chosen ancestor. It will show all the chosen ancestors descendents. For the example shown on the following pages I have started the report (Generation 1) with my Great Great Grandfather (2nd Great Grandparents) (Generation 5).

You will see on the report that he appears as Generation 1 and my Great Grandfather (Generation 4) appears on the report in Generation 1 as one of his children and in Generation 2 in his own right.

Relationship Report

This report shows the relationship between one person and another. This report can start at any person in the tree. I will normally start with you and run it against the earliest ancestor.

The example shown on the following pages shows the relationship between my Great Grandfather (Generation 4) and his 2nd Great Grandfather (Generation 8) and immediate relationships in between.

Media Reports.

This report is for an individual and will contain pictures if available of the person and media copies of any records found. Please remember that this report is for personal use only and may not be published or shared publicly.

As we progress further along with your tree you may wish to choose which person you would like me to start your reports from. This can be requested by E-mailing us at info@findyourlineage.co.uk
